LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF ARMENIA

ON REFUGEES AND ASYLUM

CHAPTER 1

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

Article 1. Subject-matter of the Law

1. The Law of the Republic of Armenia “On Refugees and asylum” (hereafter referred to as “the Law”) regulates in the Republic of Armenia the relations pertaining to recognition of a refugee and grant of asylum, as well as ensures the application of the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees (hereafter referred to as “the Convention”) and its 1967 Protocol, and recognises the right of all aliens and stateless persons to seek asylum in the territory of the Republic of Armenia and at the state border crossing points of the Republic of Armenia, as well as the right to be granted asylum, if they fulfil the necessary requirements -- prescribed by this Law -- for granting asylum.
2. This Law, in compliance with the principles and norms of international law, ensures also the protection of all aliens and stateless persons against expulsion to their country of nationality or former habitual residence, or any other country where they are in danger of being subjected to torture, inhuman or degrading treatment.
3. If the international treaties of the Republic of Armenia stipulate norms other than those provided for by this Law, the norms of the international treaties shall apply.

Article 2. Asylum

1. Asylum is a protection granted in the Republic of Armenia to a foreign national or stateless person, which guarantees the application with respect to him/her of the principle defined in Article 9 of this Law, as well as all the rights granted under the Convention, this Law, and other legal acts of the Republic of Armenia to persons recognised as refugees in the Republic of Armenia.

2. Asylum, as defined in part 1 of this Article, extends also to a foreign national or stateless person recognised as a refugee by another State, if he/she has entered the territory of the Republic of Armenia in the prescribed manner and holds a residence status -- granting the right of residence -- prescribed by the legislation of the Republic of Armenia.
3. The atmosphere of the process of granting asylum must be peaceful and humanitarian, and it [the granting of asylum] must not grow into an unfriendly attitude, as it does not imply any criticism of the country of nationality or former habitual residence of a refugee, or of any other country.

Article 3. Grant of asylum in case of a mass influx

1. When a decision on granting temporary protection is adopted by the Government of the Republic of Armenia pursuant to the procedure established by this Law, asylum may be granted in the Republic of Armenia to groups of foreign nationals or stateless persons, who, owing to the reasons referred to in Article 6(1) of this Law, have left the territories of the States bordering the Republic of Armenia.
2. Without undergoing the individual procedure as prescribed by this Law, the rights and obligations of refugees who have been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia in an individual procedure shall extend to persons referred to in part 1 of this Article. The exclusion from, cessation and cancellation of, recognition as a refugee and grant of asylum shall be carried out pursuant to this Law, under the provisions and procedures established for refugees who have been granted asylum in an individual procedure.

Article 4. Voluntary return

1. Voluntary return is the return of an asylum seeker or a refugee to the country of his/her nationality or former habitual residence, which is carried out with the assistance of the state body authorised by the Government of the Republic of Armenia (hereafter referred to as “the Authorised Body”), pursuant to the procedure established in Article 60 of this Law.
2. The principle of voluntariness must be respected by all competent bodies dealing with asylum and refugee issues, and this means that an asylum seeker or refugee:
 - (1) is informed of the situation of the country of his/her nationality or former habitual residence and is able to make a conscious decision on his/her return;
 - (2) has made a free choice to return to the country of his/her nationality or former habitual residence or to stay in the territory of the Republic of Armenia, before a final decision on his/her asylum claim is made or before cessation of recognition of a refugee.
3. All competent bodies of the Republic of Armenia dealing with asylum and refugee issues must, within the scope of their competence, facilitate the voluntary return of a refugee or asylum seeker, upon the request submitted by the asylum seeker, refugee, or the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (hereafter referred to as “UNHCR”).

Article 5. Asylum seeker

1. An asylum seeker is a foreign national or stateless person, who has submitted an asylum claim in the Republic of Armenia pursuant to Article 13(1) of this Law.
2. A person recognised as a refugee by a State signatory to the Convention, who has submitted an asylum claim in the Republic of Armenia pursuant to part 1 of this Article, shall also be considered an asylum seeker.
3. A foreign national or stateless person, who has submitted an asylum claim in the territory of the Republic of Armenia, shall, before the taking of a final decision on his/her application for being granted asylum, be considered an asylum seeker and shall enjoy, in the Republic of Armenia, all the rights of asylum seekers prescribed by this Law.

Article 6. Refugee

1. A refugee is:
 - (1) a foreign national who, owing to well-founded fear of being persecuted for the reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership to a particular social group or for political opinion, is outside the country of his/her nationality and is unable, or owing to such fear, is unwilling to avail himself/herself of the protection of the country of his/her nationality; or who, not having a nationality and being outside the country of his/her former habitual residence, is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to return to it;
 - (2) a foreign national who is compelled to leave the country of his/her nationality, or, in case of a stateless person, the country of his/her former habitual residence due to generalised violence, foreign aggression, internal conflicts, massive violations of human rights, or other serious events disrupting public order.
2. In case of a person who has more than one nationality, the term "the country of his/her nationality" shall mean each of the countries of which he/she is a national. In this case a person shall be deemed to have lost the protection of the countries of his/her nationality, if he/she is unable to avail himself/herself of the protection of any of the countries of his/her nationality due to the reasons referred to in part 1(1) and (2) of this Article.
3. A foreign national or stateless person, who has been officially recognised as a refugee by other States signatory to the Convention, shall also be considered a refugee.

Article 7. Asylum for family members and family reunification

1. The spouse, the child under 18 years of age and any other dependent of a refugee who has been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia shall also be considered a refugee and to have been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, if they reside together with the refugee in the Republic of Armenia and do not possess the nationality -- different from that of the refugee -- of any other country providing effective protection.
2. Other relatives or in-laws of a refugee who has been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia may also be considered refugees and to have been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, if they reside together with him/her in the Republic of Armenia, are dependent on the refugee and do not possess the nationality -- different from that of the refugee -- of any other State providing effective protection.

3. The parents of a child who has been recognised as a refugee in accordance with the requirements of Article 6 of this Law and has been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, his/her siblings under 18 years of age, as well as siblings who are above 18 years of age and lack active legal capacity, shall also be considered refugees and shall be granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, if they reside in the Republic of Armenia together with the child who has been granted refugee status, and do not possess the nationality -- different from that of the child -- of any other State providing effective protection.
4. Refugees who have been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia shall have the right to reunification -- in the territory of the Republic of Armenia -- with their family members referred to in parts 1 and 3 of this Article, pursuant to the procedure established in Article 54 of this Law.
5. The person who was the first recognised as a refugee in the Republic of Armenia from among his/her family members (hereafter referred to as “the person who was the first recognised as a refugee”), in case of cessation or cancellation of recognition of a refugee pursuant to Article 53 of this Law or in case of cessation of asylum granted to that refugee, his/her family members who had been recognised as refugees pursuant to parts 1, 2 or 3 of this Article and had been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, their decisions of recognition of a refugee and grant of asylum shall be ceased or cancelled together with the person who was the first recognised as a refugee. However, they shall not be deprived of the possibility to submit an asylum claim immediately thereafter, based on their personal reasons. Moreover, if they are recognised as refugees and are granted asylum, these may not be conferred to those family members who have lost their right of being recognised refugee and granted asylum through cessation, revocation, or cancellation.

Article 8. Unaccompanied minor asylum seekers and refugees and minor asylum seekers and refugees separated from family

1. Within the meaning of this Law, an unaccompanied minor or a minor separated from the family is an asylum seeker or refugee child under the age of 18, who does not have a legal representative (parents (parent), guardian, custodian) in the territory of the Republic of Armenia.

An unaccompanied minor or a minor separated from family shall be subject to the general asylum procedures provided for by this Law, unless otherwise provided for by this Law and other laws of the Republic of Armenia. Unaccompanied minors or minors separated from family shall have the same rights as prescribed for asylum seekers or refugees, unless otherwise provided for by this Law and other laws of the Republic of Armenia.
3. The Authorised Body must assist an unaccompanied minor or a minor separated from family as regards placement of the child and provision of care for him/her as prescribed by the legislation of the Republic of Armenia, as well as concerning issues of realisation of all his/her rights prescribed by the legislation of the Republic of Armenia.

4. All state bodies -- specified in Article 32 of this Law -- dealing with the issues of unaccompanied minor asylum seekers or refugees must assist them within the scope of their competence, taking into account the special situation of unaccompanied minor asylum seekers or minor asylum seekers separated from family, and acting in the best interest of the child.

Article 9. Non-refoulement

1. According to this Law and international law, the principle of non-refoulement is not returning a refugee in any manner whatsoever to the frontiers of territories where his/her life or freedom would be threatened on account of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group, political opinion or generalised violence, foreign aggression, internal conflicts, massive violations of human rights, or other serious events disrupting public order.
2. An asylum seeker may not be expelled from the territory of the Republic of Armenia prior to the making of a final decision on the asylum claim submitted by him/her pursuant to Article 47 of this Law.

 - (4) has voluntarily re-established himself/herself in the country which he/she left or from where he/she departed owing to fear of persecution; or
 - (5) can no longer refuse the protection of the country of which he/she is a national because the circumstances owing to which he/she has been recognised as a refugee have ceased to exist; or
 - (6) not having a nationality, is able to return to the country of his/her former residence because the circumstances owing to which he/she has been recognised as a refugee have ceased to exist; or
 - (7) is not, for personal reasons, any longer willing to be considered a refugee.
2. Part 1(5) and (6) of this Article shall not apply to refugees who are able to invoke compelling reasons arising out of previous persecution for refusing the protection of the country of their nationality, and in case of having no nationality – for refusing to return to the country of their former residence.
3. Asylum granted in the Republic of Armenia to a refugee shall be ceased, if, owing to well-founded reasons, he/she is regarded to be dangerous for the national security of the Republic of Armenia, or if he/she has been convicted of committing a serious or particularly serious crime.

4. Asylum granted in the Republic of Armenia to a refugee shall be ceased, if he/she has left the Republic of Armenia and remains outside the territory of the Republic of Armenia following the term of validity of the Convention Travel Document issued based on Article 30 of this Law.
5. Recognition of a refugee and asylum granted to him/her shall be ceased only by the Authorised Body, pursuant to the procedure established in Article 53 of this Law.

Article 11. Grounds for exclusion from recognition as a refugee and for refusal to grant asylum

1. A foreign national or stateless person shall not be recognised as a refugee, if there are serious reasons to believe that he/she:

 - (3) has been found guilty of committing acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.
2. The grant of asylum may be refused to a refugee who has arrived from a safe third country where he/she has no fear of persecution, human rights violations, or refoulement to his/her country, as referred to in Article 6(1)(1) and in Article 9(1) and (3) of this Law, or has no fear of being subjected to external aggression, generalised violence, foreign domination, internal conflicts, or other serious events (dangers) disrupting public order, as referred to in Article 6(1)(1) of this Law, and can lawfully return to that country.
3. A decision on refusal to recognise as a refugee and to grant asylum shall be made only by the Authorised Body, pursuant to the appropriate procedures established in Article 53 of this Law.

Article 12. Cancellation of recognition of a refugee

1. Recognition of a refugee shall be cancelled by the Authorised Body when it comes to light that the person manifestly does not fulfil the requirements for recognition as a refugee under this Law because newly discovered evidence indicates that the statements made, and documents submitted, previously are false.

An asylum request and application for the entire family -- as specified in Article 7(1) and (3) of this Law -- seeking asylum may be submitted by any family member present in the territory of the Republic of Armenia; this, however, shall be without prejudice to the right of other family members to submit individual applications based on personal reasons, pursuant to the procedure established in part 3 of this Article.

The Authorised Body shall, in co-operation with the Police, be responsible for voluntary or involuntary departure of a refugee, who has not been granted asylum, from the territory of the Republic of Armenia to another country specified in Article 11(2) of this Law, within six months following the receipt of the negative decision as prescribed in Article 56 of this Law. If the departure is not possible, the Authorised Body shall, without an additional procedure, grant asylum to the refugee, and the Police shall issue a Convention Travel Document pursuant to part 1 of this Article.

3. The Police shall be responsible for resolving the issue of the residence status of that alien in accordance with the legislation of the Republic of Armenia. The Authorised Body shall ensure that the Police are informed of all finally rejected asylum seekers and refugees not granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia, so that they are allowed to take the necessary steps pursuant to the relevant laws of the Republic of Armenia.

Article 59. Subsequent submission of an asylum application

1. A new asylum proceeding, which shall be conducted pursuant to the procedure for granting asylum established by this Law, shall be instituted with respect to each subsequent application for granting asylum, submitted as prescribed in Article 13 of this Law, after making a final negative decision on granting asylum in accordance with Article 52 of this Law, as well as after suspending the asylum procedure in accordance with Article 55 of this Law. In such cases an asylum seeker shall enjoy all the rights that are provided for persons seeking asylum for the first time, in particular, the right prescribed in Article 9(2) of this Law.
2. In the course of an asylum proceeding instituted on the basis of a subsequent asylum application and, in particular, when deciding on the recognition of a refugee and the grant of asylum, the Authorised Body shall consider only those events and facts which occurred after the last interview held with the asylum seeker in the course of examination of the asylum seeker's previous application.
3. The provisions of part 2 of this Article shall not apply in cases where a family member of a refugee who has been granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia submits an individual asylum application, or an asylum seeker applies with a request for granting asylum for his/her family following a final decision of rejection with respect to his/her asylum application submitted as prescribed in Article 47(5) of this Law.

Article 60. Voluntary return procedure

1. Asylum seekers and refugees may apply to the Authorised Body for assisting and supporting their voluntary return as defined in Article 4 of this Law. 2. In order to assist the voluntary return, the Authorised Body shall provide all applicants for voluntary return with information on the situation in their countries of nationality or former habitual residence as well as shall co-operate with UNHCR and International Organization for Migration (hereafter referred to as "IOM").
3. The Authorised Body shall, in co-operation with the Authorised Body for Foreign Affairs Issues and pursuant to the procedure established by the Government of the Republic of Armenia, assist persons who submit an application for voluntary return in obtaining necessary travel documents and visa for entering their country of origin or main residence or possible third transit countries.

4. An applicant for voluntary return shall have the right to withdraw his/her application any time in the course of the return procedure. Before departure from the Republic of Armenia, an applicant for voluntary return shall continue to enjoy the rights arising out of the status of an asylum seeker or refugee, without any restrictions.
5. After an applicant for voluntary return has left the Republic of Armenia, the Authorised Body shall record the fact of voluntary return in his/her individual file, including the decisions on termination by the asylum seeker of the asylum procedure as prescribed in Article 55(3) of this Law, or cessation of the recognition of a refugee as prescribed in Article 10(1) of this Law.
6. If an asylum seeker or refugee has, as prescribed in this Article, voluntarily returned to the country of his/her nationality or former habitual residence and has later again arrived in the Republic of Armenia and claims asylum, his/her claim shall be examined as prescribed in Article 59 of this Law.

For those groups of foreign nationals and stateless persons, who, owing to the reasons referred to in Article 6(1)(2) of this Law, have left the territories of the countries neighbouring the Republic of Armenia and have found themselves in the territory of the Republic of Armenia or at the state border crossing points of the Republic of Armenia, the Government of the Republic of Armenia may adopt a decision on taking those persons under temporary protection.
2. A decision on temporary protection shall clearly define the group of aliens that shall be granted temporary protection in the Republic of Armenia.
3. A decision on temporary protection may be made upon the proposal of the bodies referred to in Articles 34-37 of this Law, as well as upon the proposal of UNHCR and IOM.

2. Temporarily protected persons shall be granted asylum in the Republic of Armenia without applying the procedures established in Chapter 4 of this Law. The state authorized bodies referred to in Article 13(2) of this Law shall not require persons subject to temporary protection to submit individual asylum applications and shall inform the latter on the necessity to apply to the Authorised Body without delay.

3. Temporarily protected persons shall apply to the Authorised Body for registration, which shall register them, opening one common file for the whole group, where their personal data, including family composition, shall be recorded.
4. The Authorised Body also shall not accept individual asylum applications from temporarily protected persons, but shall verify the compliance of their data with the requirements of the decision of the Government of the Republic of Armenia on taking this group under temporary protection.
5. Where the Authorised Body believes that a particular person does not fulfil the requirements of the decision of the Government of the Republic of Armenia, that person shall be reserved the right to submit an individual asylum application.
6. The Authorised Body shall view as individual asylum seekers those members of a group temporarily protected upon a decision of the Government of the Republic of Armenia, with respect to whom there are well founded doubts of committing actions -- defined in Article 11(1) of this Law -- that warrant exclusion from recognition of a refugee, and shall, pursuant to Article 5 of this Law, examine, in an individual asylum procedure, the applicability of exclusion grounds with respect to them.
7. The Police shall issue an identity document of a temporarily protected person to refugees who have been granted temporary protection; later, it shall be exchanged with a Convention Travel Document. The procedure for the exchange of documents, the specimen of the identity document of a refugee who has been granted temporary protection and the procedure for its issue shall be approved by the Government of the Republic of Armenia.

2. In case of cessation of temporary protection with respect to a group that has been granted temporary protection by the Republic of Armenia, the members of that group shall no longer enjoy the rights prescribed for temporarily protected persons.
