4-Day Youth Consultation Session Plans

GLOBAL REFUGEE YOUTH CONSULTATIONS

The Global Refugee Youth Consultations (GRYC) were launched in July 2015 at the UNHCR-NGO Consultations in Geneva. This was a joint initiative of UNHCR and the Women’s Refugee Commission, supported by the Youth and Adolescents in Emergencies (YAE) Advocacy Group. This toolkit was used by UNHCR field Offices, Non-Governmental and Community Based Organisations, to hear from refugee youth and contribute to the outcomes of the project.

Why consult with refugee youth?

Refugee youth are often neglected in the dedicated programmatic responses of the UN, NGOs and other organisations working in humanitarian situations. Youth have skills, abilities and needs that are rarely fully recognised. There is a need therefore, to reach out and hear from them about the challenges they face, their aspirations and what support they need to shape positive futures.

The Global Refugee Youth Consultations provided opportunities for refugee youth to discuss issues that affect them, with host country youth, and representatives from the United Nations, international NGOs and other organisations working with youth in their country of asylum. The process aimed to place youth at the centre of decision making processes, especially those that affect them, and to recognize them for their potential. The target group for the project were young refugees that fit the United Nations definition of ‘Youth’ which is all boys and girls, young women and young men between the ages of 15-24 years.

1 The Youth and Adolescents in Emergencies Advocacy Group (YAE Group) includes representatives from more than 15 humanitarian organizations that are committed to achieving better outcomes for young people in humanitarian situations. See www.yaegroup.org
Project Overview

What were the Global Refugee Youth Consultations?
The formal consultations took place between November 2015 and June 2016. They included national level consultations in Africa, the Americas, Asia-Pacific and, the Middle East and North Africa. The ‘National Consultations’ were led by NGO partners from each country and supported by UNHCR and an international NGO regional lead. The INGO regional leads were World Vision International (WVI) for the Africa region, Asia Pacific Refugee Rights Network (APRRN) for the Asia-Pacific region, Save the Children for the Middle East and North Africa region, and the Refugee Education Trust International (RET) for the Americas. Smaller local consultations were also held with refugee youth in North America, Australasia, Europe and elsewhere. The consultations culminated in a global consultation in Geneva in June 2016, and participation of young people in the 2016 annual UNHCR-NGO Consultations, the overarching theme of which was Youth. The GRYC process resulted in near to 1,500 young people from 34 countries of origin participating in consultations held in 23 countries over an eight-month period.

Global Refugee Youth Consultations Objectives
Underpinning the design of the Global Refugee Youth Consultations process were four objectives:

1. To create structured spaces for young refugees to have a voice and engage in participatory dialogue with other youth and relevant stakeholders at local, national, regional and global levels.

2. To improve access for young refugees to local, national, regional and global youth alliances and networks.

3. To foster and support participation, leadership and empowerment opportunities for young refugees.

4. To consolidate and channel the learning from the consultations into the development of guidelines and policy recommendations on youth-inclusive programming, to improve the humanitarian sector’s understanding of, and work with, young refugees.

What did the Consultations look like?
National Consultations
The National Consultations were 4 days long and consisted of two parts:

- A three-day consultation with 20 refugee youth and 5 host country youth - working together to be heard, develop ideas, build alliances and networks, and contribute to a process to improve work with and for young refugees globally.

- A half-day ‘stakeholder dialogue’ where participants shared the consultation outcomes and recommendations with key local, national and international agencies and organisations.

What are these Session Plans for?
The Session Plans that follow were designed to facilitate the national consultations held by UNHCR and partners. Information gathered during these consultations contributed towards the final report on the findings of the GRYC - “We Believe in Youth”.

Post the GRYC process, these Session Plans for a 4-Day Youth Consultation continue to provide a framework within which interested parties can meaningfully consult with the young people that they work with and for. The exercises in the Session Plans support young people to better understand and analyse their situations by examining causes and impacts, identifying solutions to the challenges they face and to advocate with key stakeholders.

What are the Core Themes?

Set out below are the core themes that form the basis of the four-day consultation process. These themes also run through this toolkit.

1. Issues, impacts and solutions

Under this theme, youth participants are encouraged to identify the core issues they face as refugee and displaced youth and to examine the impact these issues have on their daily lives. Youth are also encouraged to start thinking about potential solutions to the issues they have identified.

Sample questions:
What are the main issues and challenges faced by refugee and displaced youth? What impact do these issues have on your lives? Which of the issues is a priority and why? What would be your top 3 priority issues to respond to? What solutions do you propose in order to tackle these issues and bring about change in your lives and the lives of other refugee and displaced youth?

2. The role of youth

This theme aims to gain insight into how refugee and displaced youth view their role in bringing about the solutions they have identified to the issues facing them and their communities. The aim is to provide guidance to policy makers and service providers on how best to engage youth in refugee situations.

Sample questions:
What is youth participation? Is it important and why? What is the role that refugee youth should/can take in the process of finding solutions, bringing about change? What can you practically do in your community/country? How would you like to be involved and what could you contribute?

3. Working in partnership with stakeholders

This theme aims to assist youth to identify stakeholders in their community and beyond who can support them in bringing about solutions to the issues they face, to understand the role that different stakeholders play and to learn how best to target them in order to bring about change.

Sample questions:
What governmental, non-governmental and community organisations do you know that can have an impact on refugee and displaced youth – at a local, national and international level? Which stakeholders are already sympathetic and which are not? What assets are there in your community? Who can assist you to implement your suggested solutions? Who do you need on your side and why?

4. Recommendations to the international community and other young refugees

This theme aims to capture recommendations and messages from youth participants about how to tangibly improve their lives. The recommendations will be presented to stakeholders for consideration so they should aim to be specific and realistic.

Sample questions:
Based on what you have looked at and discussed during this consultation and your experiences as refugees/displaced young people in this country and/or in countries of first asylum, what are your recommendations to governments, the international community and NGOs, as well as to other young refugees/forcibly displaced persons in relation to the following four questions:
- How can governments, UN organisations, NGOs and CBOs help improve the lives of young refugees?
- How can young refugees/forcibly displaced persons work to improve their own situations?
- What can you do to improve your situation?
- If you are in a resettlement country or on the move what are your specific recommendations to youth in countries of first asylum?

Tips for a Successful Consultation

For any youth consultation to be a success, and to complement the approach used in the National Consultations, there are several other key components which should also be integrated, including:
- Games and ‘energizer’ activities to keep energy levels high and to create some space for fun.
- Youth-led activities or discussions to ensure that the participants have the opportunity to take the lead, to have ownership of the process, and to build their capacities.
- Ground rules or a group contract to create a safe and comfortable space, which youth should shape for themselves.
- Social and informal time for getting to know each other, for example, the night before the consultation, breakfast or lunch together, a sports or cultural event together, or preparing meals together if time and facilities allow.
- Space for participant feedback and evaluation.
- Where possible a range of facilitation methods should be used to keep the consultation interesting and dynamic and to support different learning approaches and expression styles, for example - use of large and small group discussions, use of music, art, and drama, as well as more traditional written or discussion-based activities.
- Interactive evaluation techniques, the standardized written evaluation form for participants (see Annex 8), and creative evaluation methods should be utilized to capture the feedback of the youth participants.
Information Capture, Reporting and Informed Consent

To assist in the capture of information and to secure consent from young people and if necessary, parents or guardians, to participate in the consultation, you will find a number of pre-designed forms in the annexes. These include:

- The reporting structure for the consultation in Annex 1
- The Consultation Report Format in Annex 2
- Information and guidelines regarding note taking in Annex 5
- A Sample Participant Application Form in Annex 6
- A Sample Parent/Guardian Consent Form in Annex 7
- A Sample Participant Media Release Form in Annex 8
- The Participant Evaluation Form in Annex 9

Note: Please be sure to translate all consent forms into the local language/s when necessary to ensure participants and their parents or guardians are well informed in relation to the consultation.

Following the Consultation

It will be important for the youth participants to feel involved in the process after the consultation has finished. Consider in advance how this might be possible in your context. For example, they need to know what will happen to the information, who it will be shared with (at both the local, national and international levels), what it will be used for and how it might impact on them and their communities.

We recommend that you give clear directions to participants as to how they can stay actively engaged in the process and can follow up on what is happening after the consultation. An easy way to do this for example is to set up a Facebook page where participants can get regular updates, find out ways to continue to be involved and stay engaged with other young people who participated in the consultation.

STRUCTURE OF THE SESSION PLANS

- Each day starts with a summary sheet of the timetable for easy reference during the day.
- On the other pages, you will find detailed plans for each session.

Preparation before the day begins:

- Review the session plans in detail, including the timings. Then allocate a lead facilitator for each exercise and ensure that the four small group facilitators are prepared and understand the exercises and their roles.
- Remember to check that all your resources and equipment are prepared and easily accessible.
- Ensure that you have considered and planned for any support needs in the group, for example, interpretation, restricted mobility, and learning difficulties.

Timetable:

- 8.30-9.00 Arrivals and Name Badges
- 9.00-9.45 Introductions and Ice Breaker
- 9.45-10.45 Overview, Objectives and Expectations
- 10.45-11.15 BREAK
- 11.15-11.45 Informed consent and Ground Rules
- 11.45-12.45 Who am I?
- 12.45-1.45 LUNCH
- 1.45-2.55 Who are we? Facts and Perceptions/Opinions (including: 10 min energiser)
- 2.55-3.05 Energiser/Game
- 3.05-3.40 Youth Participation Part One: Voting
- 3.40-4.10 BREAK
- 4.10-5.15 Youth Participation Part Two: Visions for youth participation
- 5.15-5.30 Closing and Evaluation
PRIOR TO EXERCISE 1

Aim
To set a welcoming and relaxed tone for the consultation, and to complete administrative tasks before the session begins.

By the end of the exercise:
- Participants should have made their badges and shared the name that they wish to be called during the consultation.
- Participants should have been given a notepad and pen.
- All completed media release forms should have been collected.

Timing
8.30-9.00

Length
30 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- Name badge holders and cards for all participants and facilitators.
- Multi coloured pens.
- Lanyards.
- Notepads and pens (for the participants to use during the consultation)
- Media release forms (if not completed)

Resources you will need for this exercise are
- Flipcharts with large silhouettes drawn on (numbered to distinguish the small groups – one per small group)
- Flipchart paper
- Marker pens
- 2 colours of post it notes per group
- Writing pens

Notes to facilitators:
- Encourage them to make colourful badges, and ask for large, clear writing!
- Music can be playing during this arrival time to create a more relaxed atmosphere.
- Use this opportunity to be sure that all media release forms have been completed, or to sit with individual participants if they have any concerns or questions about the document.

EXERCISE 1: Introductions and Ice Breaker

Aim
To give the participants and facilitators an opportunity to get to know each other better and to learn each other’s names.

By the end of the exercise:
- Participants should have heard everyone’s name, and learnt something about each other.
- Participants should have been able to move around the space and engage with other participants and facilitators.

Timing
9.00-9.45

Length
45 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- Some photos of the ice breaker, if appropriate.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
- Anything you might need for the ice breaker!

Room set up
- Circle of chairs for whole group and facilitators
- Consultation road map and welcome banner displayed on the wall
STEPS: Introductions and Ice Breaker

- 20 minutes:
  1) Go round - introductions to learn names. Could be done in pairs and fed back to the whole group, e.g. draw the other person and learn the name and two things about them.

- 20 minutes:
  2) Lead an ‘ice breaker’ game for fun, getting to know each other and team building.
  3) Before moving on, point to the agenda for the day on the wall, so that participants have a general idea of the timings and content.

EXERCISE 2: Objectives, Overview and Expectations

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To set the tone of the consultations and enable participants to understand the basic structure and objectives of the consultation.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | Ensure all participants understand the aim, structure and objectives of the consultation.
Ensure all participants know which organisations are represented in the room, and what those organisations do.
Collect some ‘baseline data’ on participant expectations. |
| Timing | 9.45-10.45 |
| Length | 60 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | To record any questions raised during the introduction to the GRYC.
To photograph the finished expectations sheet at the end of the exercise. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | The consultation road map drawn up and displayed clearly near the main circle of chairs
A large number of flipchart sheets labelled ‘core messages and recommendations’ displayed clearly near the main circle of chairs
An agenda sheet summarising the timings of the day displayed clearly near the main circle of chairs
An expectations flipchart sheet with the question - ‘What do you want to gain from this consultation?’ - written at the top of the page
Flipchart paper
Masking tape
Post it notes (multiple colours)
Writing pens |
| Room set up | Circle of chairs for whole group
Chairs set up near road map |

STEPS: Objectives, Overview and Expectations

- 20 minutes:
  1) Gather the participants around the Road Map on the wall.
  2) Briefly talk them through the stages of what has happened before this consultation, and what will follow on from it.

- 20 minutes:
  3) Explain the objectives of the youth consultation and why the youth are here.
  4) QUESTION: Why do you think we have brought refugee youth and national youth together for this consultation? (collect some comments)
  5) Leave space for any questions or comments from the group.
20 minutes:
6) Refer the group to the Recommendations and Core Messages sheets on the wall, which should be positioned near to the road map.

7) Explain: This is where they can write ideas and suggestions at any point during the consultation for the recommendations or core messages that you want to be heard in this country and to be taken forward to a global level to improve the lives of refugee youth (if applicable to your consultation).

20 minutes:
8) Introduce the Consultation team members and ask each one to briefly introduce the organisations they represent and what that organisation does.

20 minutes:
Setting expectations:
Question: What do you want to gain from this consultation?

- Hand out post it notes and pens and ask everyone to write their expectations on the post it notes and stick them up on a designated flipchart sheet.
- Explain that we will review them and refer back to them during the consultation as we review our progress.

BREAK | 10.45-11.15
EXERCISE 3: Informed Consent and Ground Rules

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To set up a safe and respectful space for the Youth Consultation, where everyone can contribute.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
| By the end of the exercise: | - Participants should understand what is meant by informed consent.
- Participants should have given verbal/physical consent (or not) for information from these consultations to be shared, e.g. raised hands.
- Participants should have developed and agreed upon ways of working/ground rules.
- All participants should have contributed to the ground rules, either verbally or by making an active commitment. |
| Timing | 10 minutes: |
| Length | 30 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | - To record any key discussion points around informed consent and to capture any disagreements or refusals to give consent.
- To photograph the finished Ground Rules sheet at the end of the exercise. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | - Print outs of the media release form and application form for demonstration
- Flipchart paper
- Marker pens
- Masking tape |
| Information you will need for this exercise | - Decide in advance what you want to call the group contract/ground rules exercise – the wording should always be contextually appropriate. |
| Room set up | - Circle of chairs for whole group |

STEPS: Informed Consent and Ground Rules

PART ONE: Checking/reviewing informed consent (IF NEEDED)

1) Explain: Before you all came here, you filled in the application form which talked about the fact that your participation here is voluntary - it’s your choice to be here - and that you were happy to participate in the whole consultation.

2) Ask if there are any questions about that, and if not, ask for a physical expression of commitment (e.g. hands up). Remind the group that anyone can come and talk to a member of our team about any of this in breaks or lunchtime if they would prefer.

3) Explain: You also signed a form that explained the way that we will use the information and outcomes from this workshop, which includes a final report which will bring together your ideas and recommendations.

4) Ask if there are any questions, and if not, ask for a physical expression of commitment (e.g. hands up). Remind the group that anyone can come and talk to a member of our team about any of this during the breaks or lunchtime if they would prefer.
STEPS: Informed Consent and Ground Rules

PART TWO: Creating Ground Rules/Group Contract

20 minutes:

1) Ask the group: Why do you think we need to create a group contract/ground rules for this consultation?

2) Collect a few ideas verbally.

3) Question: What ground rules do we need to put in place to make this a safe and comfortable space to discuss and share ideas over next few days?

4) Collect ideas on flipchart paper.

Note to facilitators: If needed, check that people understand the word ‘rules’ or ‘contract’

5) Add any non-optional rules (e.g. from the perspective of the venue, or the leading organisations), explain the reasoning, and ask for comments or questions on them.

Note to facilitators: If it doesn’t come up, introduce the idea of confidentiality and why it is important. Especially in the process of building trust and being able to share thoughts and ideas openly.

6) Finish the exercise with a physical expression of commitment – for example, everyone signs or draws a picture at the bottom of the sheet.

7) Explain that the sheet will be up on the wall through the consultation and it is for all of us to hold the group to it – which applies to participants and facilitators!

EXERCISE 4: Who am I?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To establish the importance of the individual as well as the group, and to enable an opportunity to acknowledge the many skills and experiences in the room.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>By the end of the exercise:</td>
<td>☐ Ensure participants learn about each other and the different skills and experiences that each person is bringing to the consultation.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Timing</td>
<td>11.45-12.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Length</td>
<td>60 minutes</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | ☐ To photograph the finished sheets at the end of the exercise.
☐ To collect the ‘Who am I?’ sheets at the end of the consultation. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | ☐ Multi coloured A4 paper
☐ Coloured felt tip pens and writing pens
☐ Masking tape |
| Room set up | • Have the stationery ready to hand out and a section of wall assigned for sticking up the sheets.
• Participants can move around and sit where they like. |
STEPS: Who am I?

5 minutes:
1) Explain that we are going to start by getting to know more about everyone in the room, because it’s important to acknowledge the skills, talents and aspirations of everyone who has come to take part in this consultation.

2) Hand out a sheet of A4 coloured paper and pens to everyone.

3) Ask them to draw a small self-portrait in the middle of their paper and then divide the rest of the paper into four equal parts.

4) Show an example on flipchart paper first using some of your own examples, including the following questions:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>I like...</th>
<th>I am good at...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I admire/respect/look up to...</td>
<td>I would like to develop skills or knowledge in these areas...</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

30 minutes:
5) Explain that they can write key words or draw images to represent their answers in each of the four areas.

6) Put some music on in the background to help create a more relaxed environment.

7) Facilitators should also be creating a ‘who am I?’ picture to create a sense of openness in the room. They should also be available if there are any questions or if anyone is confused.

8) Ask the participants to stick their images up on the wall in a designated area when they have finished, and allow for time for people to walk around and have a look at them.

15 minutes:
9) Encourage feedback from anyone who would like to share some of their comments, but individuals shouldn’t be forced to speak if they don’t want to.

10) Debrief - the objective of this exercise is to highlight and acknowledge the assets, interests and aspirations that you bring to the room – rather than just focusing on the challenges that you might face.

Note to facilitators: Highlight commonalities and differences – regardless of nationality, age, sex, etc.

LUNCH | 12.45 – 1.45
EXERCISE 5: Who are we? Facts and Perceptions/Opinions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To get everyone to a shared level of understanding regarding the factual terms ‘refugee’ and ‘youth’ before moving forward; to identify any preconceptions or stereotypes that national youth and refugee youth might have; and to identify challenges/issues that may be explored further during the consultation.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>By the end of the exercise:</td>
<td>Participants will have shared their ideas and listened to other ideas around the facts and perceptions connected to the terms ‘refugee’ and ‘youth’. Participants will have discussed the rights that protect refugees and youth.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Timing</td>
<td>Length</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.45-2.55</td>
<td>70 minutes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>To report back on this exercise, you will need</td>
<td>To record any key discussion points from the small groups and the whole group feedback. To photograph the finished sheets at the end of the exercise.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Resources you will need for this exercise are</td>
<td>Flipchart paper (at each table) Marker pens (at each table) Brief fact sheets on relevant rights and treaties for the small group facilitators.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Room set up</td>
<td>• 4 tables with 6/7 chairs each set up for small group work.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STEPS: Who are we? Facts and Perceptions/Opinions

10 minutes:

1) Lead an energiser activity to get everyone active and motivated for the afternoon’s activities.

5 minutes:

2) Set up the exercise: Explain that we think it’s very important to hear from you about your experiences of the words or labels - ‘refugee’ and ‘youth’. So in small groups, we want you to discuss the facts and opinions/perceptions related to each word.

3) Check that everyone understands the difference between a fact and an opinion/perception.

4) Divide the group into 4 small groups, each based at a different table, with a facilitator assigned to each.

40 minutes:

5) In the small groups:

   - Have two sheets of flipchart paper per group – one with the word ‘refugee’ at the top and one with the word ‘youth’ at the top.
   - Then divide each sheet into two halves – write ‘fact’ at the top of the left column and ‘perception’ or ‘opinion’ at the top of the right column.
   - Take 15 minutes to discuss each word/sheet and add the discussion points to the flipchart.

15 minutes:

In the large group:

6) Put up the sheets, gather in the whole group around the sheets and ask for a few comments on the exercise.

Note to facilitator: If it hasn’t come up in the discussions, check for knowledge of the specific rights that connect to each word, i.e. refugee rights specifically, UNCRC for youth under 18, and UDHR for all people.
continued EXERCISE 5 STEPS: WHO ARE WE? FACTS AND PERCEPTIONS/OPINIONS

7) Include the debrief questions –
   - Was it hard or easy to separate the facts from the perceptions/opinions about these words?
   - Why is it important to separate the facts from the perceptions/opinions about these words?

8) Reminder: If you have any messages or recommendations to make on this topic, or more ideas to share, remember to add them to the ideas wall.

9) Explain that in the next exercise we are going to move on to talking about the role that all youth can play in bringing about change and the importance of mutual understanding in that process.

EXERCISE 6: Youth Participation

Aim
To introduce the topic of youth participation and to explore the barriers and enablers for active and meaningful youth participation.

By the end of the exercise:
- Participants will have voted to share their opinions on the ease of youth interactions with key stakeholders (i.e. your organisation, other CBOs, NGOs, UNHCR, government agencies etc.).
- Participants will have shared their ideas on the role of youth in designing and planning their services and activities, and the levels of engagement involvement that they have experiences with key stakeholders (i.e. your organisation, other CBOs, NGOs, UNHCR, government agencies etc.).
- Participants will have shared their visions for how youth should be engaged to ensure improvements in the lives of refugee youth.

Timing

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Length
140 minutes (including break)

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- To record the voting scores for the Part One questions.
- To record the answers and key discussion points in Part Two.
- To record key discussion points in Part Two – small group discussions and whole group feedback and discussion.
- To photograph the final mural for Part Three at the end of the exercise.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
- Flipchart paper
- Marker pens
- Coloured A4 paper
- Coloured drawing pens
- Masking tape

Room set up
- Circle of chairs
- Tables and art equipment available
STEPS: Youth Participation

Energiser/game (2.55-3.05)

10 minutes:

1) Run a participation themed energiser/game to prepare the group for the theme of the next exercise.

PART ONE (3.05-3.40)

5 minutes:

1) Explain: Thinking back to the application form that you read through and filled in to come here, you are here because you want to share your experiences and ideas and to be a part of advocating for change for refugee youth. So we want to talk more now about why you think it’s important for you to be involved, how you want to be involved and what can stop that from happening.

2) Explain: We are going to use a voting process to collect your opinions about youth participation. Remind the group to only raise their hands once per question:

30 minutes:

QUESTION 1: Should NGOs and UNHCR listen to and involve youth in designing and planning their services and activities for refugee youth?

- Ask for a show of hands for yes and then no – record the numbers on either side. Separate the voting for NGOs and then for UNHCR.

BREAK | 3.40-4.10

- Follow up question to those who said yes: “why?” and to those who said no – “why not?” Collect some thoughts on this before moving on.

QUESTION 2: Have you ever taken action to communicate with an NGO or UNHCR to address an issue you were facing?

- Ask for a show of hands for yes and then no – record the numbers on either side. Separate the voting for NGOs and then for UNHCR.

QUESTION 3: Do you feel like it’s easy to communicate with NGOs and UNHCR to address issues you face?

- Ask for a show of hands for 3 options – on a scale from easy to not easy (choose the appropriate wording for the middle option) – record the numbers for all three options. Separate the voting for NGOs and then for UNHCR.

- Ask those who said it’s easy or quite easy – why?

- Get responses from the group (write up on the left half of a flipchart paper - keep these responses for future discussions on solutions).

- Ask those who said it’s not easy – why?

- Get responses from the group (write up on the right half of the flipchart paper).

3) Debrief: Remind the participants that these discussions might give them an idea for a message or recommendation that they would like to add to the wall, and that they can do so over break.
PART TWO (4.10 – 5.15)

5 minutes:
1) Explain that now we have highlighted some of the points that make it easy or difficult to engage with NGOs and UNHCR, we want to hear your ideas for how youth should be involved and included in the decision making processes that affect them.

2) Introduce the question for this section: What are the group’s ideas and visions for youth participation? OR What should youth participation or involvement look like to have a positive effect on the lives of refugee youth? (Choice of terminology will be influenced by language and context)

3) Explain that this may be from their own experience of volunteering or working, or how they think youth should be involved more generally.

40 minutes:
4) Break up into 4 small groups to discuss their ideas and create a picture/image or multiple pictures/images that represent those visions. These can also include words if wanted.

20 minutes:
5) Stick up the images to create a joint mural on the wall and ask for verbal feedback from each small group to collect the specific ideas behind the images.

6) Debrief – explain that these ideas might become recommendations that they want to write on the ideas wall, or to raise at the stakeholders meeting this week. Encourage them to add them to the messages and recommendations wall if they want to share their ideas.

EXERCISE 7: Closing and Evaluation

| Aim | To review the day and capture any key learning points or suggestions that could be applied to the following days. |
| By the end of the exercise: | Ensure participants have expressed themselves in relation to the day’s activities. Ensure participants know what is happening that evening, and the starting time for the following day. |
| Timing | 5.15-5.30 |
| Length | 15 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | To photograph the completed evaluation tool. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | Flipchart paper prepared with three columns – draw a happy face at the top of the left column, draw a sad face at the top of the middle column, and draw a lightbulb at the top of the right column. Post it notes. Writing pens. |
| Room set up | Circle of chairs for whole group. Flipchart paper stuck up on the wall or flipchart stand. |
STEPS: Closing and Evaluation

1) Thank the participants for their inputs and energy during the day.

2) Refer the group to the consultation road map and briefly outline what was covered today.

3) Explain that we are going to do a quick evaluation exercise now so we can get their feedback on the day.

4) Ask the group to reflect on what they have been doing today and to think about what went well and what did not go so well.

5) Show them the flipchart paper pre-prepared:

6) Hand out post it notes and pens to everyone and allow them time to write their ideas for:
   a. What they enjoyed/went well (left column)
   b. What they didn’t enjoy/didn’t go well (middle column)
   c. Any ideas they have that would have improved the day (right column)

7) There should be one idea per post it note and they can share as many ideas as they like

8) Then ask the participants to stick their ideas in the relevant columns

9) Finish by explaining what the evening activities will be and what time the next day’s activities will begin, and ask for a volunteer/s to do a quick recap tomorrow morning of what we covered today.
Preparation before the day begins:

- Review the session plans in detail, including the timings. Then allocate a lead facilitator for each exercise and ensure that the four small group facilitators are prepared and understand the exercises and their roles.
- Remember to check that all your resources and equipment are prepared and easily accessible.
- Review the participant list and divide the participants into four groups - each group should include at least one host community youth, and should take into account personality types, sex, background, nationality, geographical location, and friendships etc.
- Write the groups on a flip chart paper at the start of the day and display on the wall to speed up the process of the grouping.

EXERCISE 1: Introduction, recap and energiser

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To set the tone and motivate the group for the day ahead, and to recap what happened the day before.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | ☑ Participants will have reflected on the topics they covered the day before.
☑ Participants will have had an opportunity to have fun and get energised.
☑ Participants will be aware of the timetable for the day. |
| Timing | 9.00-9.20 |
| Length | 20 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | ☐ An agenda sheet summarising the timings of the day displayed clearly near the main circle of chairs.
☐ Any equipment required for the energiser. |
| Room set up | • Circle of chairs for whole group
• Chairs set up near the consultation road map |

STEPS: Introduction, recap and energiser

1. 15 minutes:
   1) Welcome the group back into the room for day two of the consultation.

2. 15 minutes:
   2) Acknowledge the evaluation feedback that they shared at the end of the previous day and explain that the facilitators have taken it into consideration for the rest of the consultation.

3. 15 minutes:
   3) Ask the pre-selected volunteer(s) to recap the main points of what was covered the day before.

4. 15 minutes:
   4) Point to the road map and today’s agenda which should be up on the wall, so the group can see their progress and what topics they will be exploring today.

5. 15 minutes:
   5) Run or ask a member of the group to run an energiser to get the group motivated for the day ahead. It should be fun and interactive.
EXERCISE 2: Identifying Needs and Issues

Aim
To identify the issues important to the young people in this consultation, based on their experiences as refugees, and to encourage mutual understanding by bringing refugee youth and youth from the host country together for these discussions.

By the end of the exercise:
- Participants should have identified needs and issues that are important to them.
- All participants should have contributed.

Timing
9.20-10.20

Length
60 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- To record any key discussion points around needs and issues.
- To photograph the completed needs and issues sheets.
- To list the main issues/challenges that are identified.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
- 4 flipcharts with large silhouettes drawn on (flipcharts numbered 1-4 to differentiate the groups)
- Participant list written up on flipchart paper – divided up into 4 groups – incorporating at least one host community youth per group to ensure an even split. Also be aware of the personality types, sex, background, geographical location, and friendships etc. when allocating the groups.
- Flipchart paper
- Marker pens
- 8 post it note pads – 2 colours per group
- Writing pens

Room set up
- 4 flipcharts with silhouettes drawn on put up on the wall at different points around the room (with space between so the groups can talk without disturbing each other).
- No need for tables and chairs to be arranged (unless needed for health or mobility reasons).

STEPS: Identifying Needs and Issues

5 minutes:
1) Explain that in this exercise we will be focusing on understanding more about the main issues and challenges that refugee youth face. This is the starting point of developing solutions for later today and tomorrow.

2) Divide the group up into the four small groups that have been decided in advance, allocate a facilitator to each group, and ask them to go to one of the flipcharts around the room. Each silhouette represents a young refugee and so emphasise to the group that their experiences as refugee youth should be the focus of this activity.

Note to facilitator: Unless mobility or health is an issue, this is a standing rather than seated exercise to keep energy levels up.

35 minutes:
3) Each group gathers at a flipchart paper and discusses two points – 1) needs, and 2) main issues/challenges they have had/faced as refugee youth in a new country.
4) Different colour post it notes should be used to record the needs and issues/challenges, which should be stuck on the flip chart paper.

5) The facilitator allocated to each group should support as needed.

6) The group should decide who will be presenting back their findings to the whole group.

20 minutes:

7) For feedback, the groups should remain standing and walk to each flipchart paper to hear each group speak.

8) To keep the group focused, to keep to time, and to enable an opportunity to practice public speaking, set a strict feedback time limit, e.g. 3 minutes per group.

9) Thank the group for their inputs and explain that we will return to these issues after the break.

EXERCISE 3: Diamond Ranking – Prioritising Issues

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To support analysis and prioritisation of issues to be considered in relation to solutions, and to initiate conversations about the impacts of these issues, as the group considers them in relation to each other.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | - Participants develop or practice critical thinking skills to evaluate and decide which issues to prioritise.
- Participants discuss their identified issues and reach a consensus as a group. |
| Timing Length | 10.50-12.00 |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | - To record any key discussion points around prioritising the main issues, especially the process of selection, which points cause disagreements, and where there was consensus.
- To photograph the completed diamond ranking charts.
- To list the order of the 9 main issues/challenges that are selected. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | - 4 flipchart papers with a diamond ranking chart drawn on
- The needs and issues sheets from the previous exercise |
| Room set up | - Small groups spread out at 4 points around the room.
- No need for tables or chairs to be arranged (unless needed for health or mobility reasons). |
STEPS: Diamond Ranking – Prioritising Issues

5 minutes:

1) Gather everyone in the circle and explain that we are going to do an exercise now that helps us to decide which are the main issues that need to be focused on when we develop solutions and recommendations.

2) Explain to the group that they are going to look at the list of key issues that they have just come up with and to select the 9 issues affecting youth that they want to focus on to come up with recommendations and solutions over the next two days.

3) Show them a blank version of the diamond ranking chart on the flipchart stand and explain that they will be ranking them, with the issue that they most want to focus on at the top, and so on down the diamond.

4) Ask the participants to stay in the same small groups from the last exercise, and to go back to their group’s needs and issues sheet, and to stick up their diamond ranking sheet next to it.

40 minutes:

5) Allocate a facilitator to each group to listen and to support if needed.

Note to facilitator: Allow the group to lead the discussions as much as possible. The discussions should represent their own ideas.

6) Ask the participants to walk around the room (quickly) and have a look at the other diamonds.

20 minutes:

7) Ask for a group to volunteer to go first with their feedback and gather all the groups together at their sheets.

8) Keep the groups standing if possible as they move around the room to each group’s sheets to maintain energy and focus.

9) Remind them that each group will have 3 minutes to feedback the key points of their discussion and how they made their final selection.

Note to facilitator: Hold the groups to the 3 minute feedback slot, so that all the groups have a chance to feedback, and to help them practice giving concise feedback.

5 minutes:

10) Quick debrief - Ask the group for a show of hands – 1) who found this exercise easy? 2) who found this exercise difficult?

11) Get some feedback from a couple of people on why they found it easy or difficult.

12) Acknowledge that this can be a hard exercise and that naturally people will differ on the order of issues, but this tool helps us with the difficult task of prioritising.
EXERCISE 4: Problem Tree - Part One

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To support the identification and analysis of the causes and impacts of specific issues.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | - Participants should have identified some of the root causes and impacts of identified issues.
- Participants should understand how to develop a problem tree and understand the problem tree methodology as a tool for working through and analysing identified issues. |
| Timing | 12.00-1.00 |
| Length | 60 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | - To record the four issues selected – one per group.
- To record key discussion points about causes and impacts of identified issues from each small group discussion.
- To photograph the finished problem trees at the end of the exercise. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | - 4 tree outlines prepared on flipchart paper
- Flipchart paper pad – 1 per group
- Marker pens – for each group
- 8 post it note pads – 2 colours per group
- Writing pens |
| Room set up | - 4 tables with enough chairs each set up for small group work.
- Flipchart paper and marker pens, writing pens and post it notes set up at each table. |

STEPS: Problem Tree - Part One

10 mins:

1) Bring everyone back into the circle for an energiser – get everyone moving to help maintain the energy until the lunch break.

5 minutes:

2) Explain that now we are going to look more closely at the important issues that they have identified, and to think about what causes them and what impact they have on refugee youth.

3) Explain that they will be staying in the same small groups as this morning, and each group will be choosing one issue from the top 3 choices on their diamond ranking charts. This should be the issue or problem affecting refugee youth that they most want to focus on during this consultation when they think about solutions and recommendations.

35 minutes:

4) Each group should sit at a table with their facilitator.

5) Firstly, each group should write the issue clearly on a piece of A4 paper as a problem statement – this should be brief and clear and youth focused, e.g. “youth are not …”, “youth do not have access to …”, etc.

6) Then divide a sheet of flipchart paper in half lengthways and discuss the following points in the small groups:

   a. The causes or influencing factors that lead to the issue.

   b. The impacts of the issue on the lives of refugee youth.
continued EXERCISE 4 STEPS: PROBLEM TREE - PART ONE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Causes</th>
<th>Impacts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

7) Explain that they will write the causes/influences on post it notes and put them on the left side, and then write the impacts on different colour post it notes and stick on the right side of the paper.

Note to facilitators:
• One of the easiest ways to help the group identify the root causes is to ask ‘why does this happen?’ or ‘why is this the situation?’ in relation to their problem statement.

8) Share a template of a tree on flipchart paper with each small group and with the support of the facilitators, ask the groups to stick their issue/challenge on the trunk, the causes and influences on the roots, and the impacts on the branches.

   a. Trunk – issue
   b. Roots – causes or influences that lead to that issue
   c. Branches – impacts of this issue on the lives of refugee youth

9) Explain to the whole group that they have just constructed a ‘Problem Tree’, and that the tree helps to visually show what influences or causes a problem or issue and what are the impacts or consequences of that problem. This exercise is included in these consultations as a skills building opportunity because it is very useful in problem solving and it is often used by community groups and NGOs.

10) Explain that we will return to these trees after lunch to share our ideas with the rest of the group.

LUNCH | 1.00-2.00 (including an energiser before the next session)
EXERCISE 5: Problem Tree - Part Two

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STEPS: Problem Tree Part Two

35 minutes:

1. Explain to the groups that they need to gather together and decide on a quick and creative way to feedback and share their problem tree ideas with the group.
2. Explain that each group will have a maximum of 4 minutes for their feedback.
3. Share examples if needed, e.g. they could use drama or art, or they could just each represent a different part of the tree.
4. Ask the facilitators to accompany their groups to support their preparations, if needed.

25 minutes:

5. Gather the groups together in the circle for their presentations – allow a maximum of 4 minutes per group.
6. Allow time for comments or questions.
EXERCISE 6: World Café – Generating Solutions

Aim
To identify innovative ways of tackling the issues highlighted in the problem tree exercise.

By the end of the exercise:
☐ Participants should have identified multiple solutions to the 4 issues
☐ All participants have had the opportunity to contribute.
☐ Participants have begun to think about and discuss why possible solutions could work.

Timing
3.00-4.00

Length
60 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
☐ To record any key discussion points around the solutions that are proposed.
☐ To photograph the finished solutions sheets at the end of the exercise.
☐ To collect the sheets at the end of the consultation.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
☐ 4 question sheets prepared – one for each table. These should be issues pre-selected from the diamond ranking exercise, and they should be issues that have not been analysed in the problem tree exercise, or are not often discussed, or which represent minority groups. The sheets should state the issue along with the question - ‘how would you solve or respond to this issue or challenge?’
☐ Flipchart paper
☐ Marker pens
☐ Bowls of sweets/snacks
☐ Music/speakers (for quiet background music if wanted)
☐ A dedicated timekeeper!

Room set up
• 4 tables with enough chairs at each set up for small group work – spread out as much as possible to avoid distractions.
• Add a bowl of sweets or snacks to each table if possible.

STEPS: World Café – Generating Solutions

5 minutes:
1) Explain that as we’ve identified many key issues now and we have explored some of the causes and impacts of those issues, we want to start thinking about your ideas for solving them. Building on the creativity from the last exercise, this exercise will be fast paced and gives you a chance to share your views and opinions while the facilitators will be collecting your ideas on paper.

2) Explain that 4 issues have been identified from the diamond ranking exercise, and 1 has been allocated to each table and written on a piece of paper in the middle. Participants will spend 7/8 mins at each table coming up with solutions to each issue and then move to the next table.

3) Explain that a facilitator will act as the note taker at each table and will capture the ideas on flipchart paper, and remain at the same table throughout.

Note to facilitators: Need a strict time keeper for this exercise! Everyone should go to each table once.
Global Refugee Youth Consultations
4-DAY YOUTH CONSULTATION SESSION PLANS

40 minutes:
4) Divide the group into 4 small groups – these should be different groups from previous exercises so that participants can work with new people.
5) Participants spend 7/8 mins at each table answering the question and then move round to the next table.
6) Timekeeper and spare facilitators need to keep the groups rotating on time.

15 minutes:
7) Ask for the 4 facilitators to share the ideas from each sheet with the whole group – rapid feedback – 3 minutes per facilitator.
8) After each facilitator feeds back, participants can briefly comment or ask questions.
9) Remind the group that at break they might want to add some recommendations to the ideas wall based on what we have discussed and proposed. (Reminder – these are ideas that would have a big impact on the lives of refugee youth.

BREAK | 4.00-4.30

EXERCISE 7: What’s your role?

| Aim | To provide an opportunity for youth to start considering the types of roles that they can take in the solutions they have identified as a group (before we start talking about the roles of other stakeholders tomorrow). |
| By the end of the exercise: | ☐ Participants will have suggested ways in which they and other youth could take an active role in realising their solutions. ☐ All participants will have contributed. |
| Timing | 4.30 – 5.15 |
| Length | 45 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | ☐ To record key discussion points about the role that youth can take in the identified solutions. ☐ To record the specific ideas that youth generate for how they could get involved. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | ☐ The solutions sheets from the previous World Café exercise ☐ Paper and pens |
| Room set up | • 4 tables with 7 chairs each set up for small group work. |

STEPS: What’s your role?

5 minutes:
1) Start with an energiser to motivate the group for the last exercise.

5 minutes:
2) Explain that before we finish for the day, we want you to start thinking about the types of roles and actions that you as youth could take to make the solutions that we have just identified a reality.
EXERCISE 8: Closing and Evaluation

Aim
To review the day and capture any key learning points.

By the end of the exercise:
- Ensure participants have expressed themselves in relation to the day’s activities.
- Ensure participants know what is happening that evening, and the starting time for the following day.

Timing
Length
5.15-5.30
15 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- To record the words and ideas shared in the final go round exercise.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
No resources needed

Room set up
- Circle of chairs for whole group

STEPS: Closing and Evaluation

1) Thank the participants for their inputs and energy during the day.

2) Refer the group to the consultation road map and briefly outline what was covered today.

3) Ask for a volunteer/s to do a quick recap tomorrow morning of what we covered today.

4) Explain that we are going to do a quick evaluation exercise now so we can get their feedback on the day:
   - Ask the group to share one word about today and one thing that they learnt today - go round the circle so that everyone speaks.

5) Thank the participants for sharing their thoughts, and explain what the evening activities will be and what time the next day’s activities will begin.

3) You will be given 15/20 minutes to consider the practical actions that you and other youth can do/take to make possible the solutions that you have just generated.

15/20 minutes:

4) The 4 groups from World Café can stay together for this exercise. Allocate one set of solutions from World Café per group. Ask each group to find a space to work, and allocate a facilitator to join them. Ideas can be written onto flipchart paper.

5) Rapid feedback - allow 2/3 minutes for each group to share their feedback.

6) Round of applause for the group that generates the most ideas.

7) Explain that we will be thinking more about these ideas as we talk more about our problem trees tomorrow, and as we start to plan for what will happen next after this consultation.
Preparation before the day begins:

- Review the session plans in detail, including the timings. Then allocate a lead facilitator for each exercise and ensure that the four small group facilitators are prepared and understand the exercises and their roles.

- Remember to check that all your resources and equipment are prepared and easily accessible.

- Ensure that you have considered any support needs in the group, including interpretation, restricted mobility and learning difficulties.

- Identify 3 volunteers for the advocacy exercise either before the day begins, or at break, and fully brief them on their roles.

Timetable:

8.45-9.00  Introduction, recap, energiser
9.00-10.30  Storyboard Solutions
10.30-11.00  BREAK
11.00-11.45  Stakeholder Analysis

STEPS: Introduction, recap and energiser/game

10 minutes:
1) Welcome the group back into the room for day three of the consultation.

2) Ask volunteers to quickly recap the main points of what was covered the day before. Set a time limit if needed.

3) Point to the road map and today’s agenda which should be up on the wall, so the group can see their progress and what topics they will be exploring today.

5 minutes:
4) Ask a member of the group to lead a quick energiser to get the group motivated for the day ahead. It should be fun and interactive.

STEPS: Storyboard Solutions

5 minutes:

1) Explain that we will now build on your ideas from the problem tree from yesterday, and we are going to think about the solutions to the issues that you want to focus on. But today we are going to use another tool to capture your ideas – a storyboard.

2) Ask if anyone knows that a storyboard is? Take a couple of suggestions and then explain that it’s a way of using images to tell a story, like a film director preparing for a movie.

3) Show a simple example on flipchart paper, so the group is clear what is expected of them.

4) Explain that you will stay in the same groups as you were in yesterday and you will begin by discussing these 4 questions in your group (written up on flipchart paper) -
   - What solution(s) would you propose for this issue? (be as specific and detailed as possible)
   - Within our communities, what can we as youth do to put these solutions into practice?
   - In what ways do we need extra support to put these solutions into practice, and from whom?
   - If these solutions were implemented, how would they improve the lives of refugee youth?

BREAK | 10.30-11.00

(If not already done, use the break to identify 3 volunteers for the advocacy exercise and brief them on their roles)
EXERCISE 3: Stakeholder Analysis

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>For participants to identify and understand the key stakeholders that they would like to connect with/partner with/contact, and for participants to understand who will be attending the stakeholders meeting the following day.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | - Participants will have identified stakeholders that they are already aware of at a local, national and international level.
- Participants will have identified some of the people and organisations that they want or need to be in contact with to bring about the changes that they’re recommending.
- Participants will be aware of who is attending the stakeholders meeting the next day and why they have been invited. |
| Timing | 11.00-11.45 |
| Length | 45 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | - To record the key discussion points, specifically in terms of who they identified and why. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | - Prepared flipchart sheet with three columns – local, national, international (see below)
- List of which individuals or organisations will be represented at the Stakeholders Meeting on day 4
- Flipchart paper
- Marker pens |
| Room set up | - Large circle of chairs
- Access to flipchart board |

STEPS: Stakeholder Analysis

30 minutes:

1) Gather the whole group together in the main circle.

2) Explain: Earlier, we discussed the role that youth can play in the solutions you have suggested and in the storyboard exercise, you identified some key stakeholders who could support you to achieve your solutions.

3) Explain: We are trying to tackle big issues here, so we need to make our voices stronger and louder, and we need to team up with others who support what we’re trying to achieve.

Put up the prepared flipchart sheet with the 3 columns, like this:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Local</th>
<th>National</th>
<th>International</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
4) Ask the group to share some examples of the stakeholders they identified through their storyboard.

5) Take a few examples and write them on the flipchart paper in the relevant columns. As someone suggests an example, ask them which column they think it should be in to keep the exercise interactive.

6) Question for discussion: Why did you identify these stakeholders in particular to support your solutions?

7) Question for discussion: Can you think of any other key stakeholders who are not on the storyboards? Think about the columns without many examples in.

8) Take a few examples and add them to the relevant columns of the flipchart paper.

Note to facilitators: This discussion should help you to gauge the level of understanding in the room around key stakeholders, and to identify gaps in knowledge.

20 minutes:

9) Explain to the group how many people are coming to the stakeholders meeting tomorrow and from which organisations.

10) Write the organisations up on flipchart paper in advance.

11) Explain that they will have about 3 hours with the stakeholders tomorrow to share their ideas and recommendations, and this afternoon they will be planning the meeting and preparing their presentations and key recommendations.

12) Take a few comments from the group and be sure to highlight and correct any misunderstandings.

13) Use this opportunity to give an overview of the organisations and the wider NGO sector in this country.

14) Use this opportunity to be realistic about the meeting tomorrow – emphasise that this is the beginning of a process that will take time and which will require us to work together to see results.

</tbody>
</table>
STEPS: How to Communicate Our Messages - Advocacy

1) 10 minutes:

   Start with a quick energiser to motivate the group for the last session before lunch.

2) 10 minutes:

   In the main circle, explain that now we have discussed who we want to communicate with, we now want to think about how we communicate our messages.

3) Explain to the group that they will now form 3 different communities. A Youth Leader will visit each community and try to convince them of an idea to improve their community. At the end of the exercise they will be asked to vote on who made the stronger argument. We will then discuss why and how they made their decision.

4) Write up the three ideas (solutions) on the flip chart and give each idea a number 1 – 3.

5) Ask the 3 volunteers to stand up and then go round the circle giving everyone else a number from 1 – 3, and then split the large group into small groups numbered 1, 2 and 3.

6) 15 minutes:

   Once the three groups are formed, the youth leaders move from one group to another giving their pitch. A time-keeper blows a whistle/claps hands at the end of 3 minutes to indicate that they must move to next group.

7) At the end of the exercise, ask participants to come back to big circle and hand out small pieces of paper.

8) Refer them back to the 3 ideas/solutions on flip-chart numbered 1 – 3 and ask them to vote based on the strength of the arguments and advocacy skills for each idea/solution advocated for by the 3 youth leaders.

9) 15 minutes:

   While one of the facilitators is counting the votes, start the group discussion:

   a. Why did you vote for your chosen solution?

   b. What factors convinced you to make your choice?

10) Explain that what the youth leaders were doing was advocacy.

11) Ask the following question and collect a few ideas on flipchart paper:

   a. What skills/qualities do you think are necessary for good advocacy?

12) If not already suggested, add the following advocacy skills to the list - listening/talking/identifying the right people to talk to/finding out information/analysing information/presenting your views clearly/prioritising/influencing people/persistence etc.

13) 10 minutes:

   Put up the flipchart with the definition of advocacy and let the group take a minute to read it and leave space for any comments or questions.

14) Ask participants to name other prominent youth advocates they have heard of, to put the skills into context.

15) Ask participants to give examples of youth advocacy they have been involved in.

16) Finish the session by announcing the final votes and thank the 3 volunteers for their efforts.

LUNCH | 12.45-1.45 (including an energiser before the next session)
EXERCISE 5: Deciding on our core messages and recommendations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aim</th>
<th>To enable the group to reflect on their work during the week and to decide on the core messages and recommendations that they want to reach a national or global audience that will improve the lives of refugee youth (or whatever audience is applicable to your consultation).</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| By the end of the exercise: | □ Participants will have been reminded of the main exercises that they have done this week.
□ Participants will have identified some of their most significant recommendations or messages they would share that would improve the lives of refugee youth. |
| Timing | 1.45-3.15 |
| Length | 90 minutes |
| To report back on this exercise, you will need | □ To record the key discussion points in the small groups.
□ To record the key ideas and discussion points in the group feedback section.
□ To record the results of the sticky dots voting and the key messages that are prioritised. |
| Resources you will need for this exercise are | □ Access to the recommendations/ideas wall
□ Flipchart paper
□ Marker pens
□ Sticky dots
□ Notepads
□ Writing pens |
| Room setup | • Access to all the flipcharts on the walls |

STEPS: Deciding on our core messages and recommendations

10 minutes:

1) In the main circle, explain that using the advocacy and communication skills that we have just talked about before lunch, we’re now going to come back to the core recommendations that you want to share from this consultation with the national or global audience (or whatever audience is applicable to your consultation) and with the stakeholders we will meet tomorrow.

2) Ask the group to follow you around the room as you do a quick recap of the main exercises that we have covered since day one.

Note to facilitators: The visual reminders are important as they will have covered a lot by now and they may not remember the details of the earlier exercises.

3) Explain that we are going to divide the group up into 4 small groups (this can be a new or pre-existing group) and allocate a facilitator to each group.

4) Divide the group into 4 teams.

45 minutes:

1) Explain that each team is now free to walk around and look at what they have done this week, and then find a space in the room or outside with their facilitator to discuss and write down their core recommendations that they think would significantly improve the lives of refugee youth.

2) These recommendations should be written on flipchart paper.

3) Remind the group that the recommendations need to be brief and clear – no more than 1 or 2 sentences.

4) Tell the group that they have 45 minutes to complete this task.
continued EXERCISE 5 STEPS: DECIDING ON OUR CORE MESSAGES AND RECOMMENDATIONS

20 minutes:
5) Bring everyone back to the whole group near to the recommendations wall, stick up the flipchart papers and ask for feedback from each group. Allocate 3 minutes per group.

10 minutes:
6) Explain that all their ideas will be taken forward from this consultation, but for now we want to know which recommendations they most want to share with a national or global audience to improve the lives of refugee youth.

7) Explain that to help us select and so that everyone has a say, we will be voting using sticky dots.

8) Each person should be given 5 sticky dots and then ask them to put each of their dot by their top choices for recommendations to be taken forward from this consultation.

EXERCISE 6: Stakeholder Meeting Planning – Part One

<td>• Circle of chairs</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
STEPS: Stakeholder Meeting Planning – Part One

5 minutes:
1) Explain: We talked this morning about who will be coming to the stakeholders meeting tomorrow. So now we need to start planning and to do that we want to be sure that everyone is clear on the objectives of the meeting.

2) Share these objectives and leave space for any questions or comments -
   - To share your experiences, ideas and recommendations
   - To influence others and gain support for our ideas
   - To showcase the importance of involving youth in planning and decision making
   - To build partnerships

10 minutes:
3) Explain that we need an agenda for the meeting to structure ourselves and to help us to achieve all the outcomes that we want, so here is the suggested structure;
   - 10.00-10.30: Coffee and welcome (and registration of stakeholders)
   - 10.30-11.00: Welcome and overview
   - 10.45-11.15: Participant presentations (x 4)
   - 11.15-12.15: Round table discussions – World Café style discussions, with guiding questions at each table to facilitate discussion (snacks and drinks served at the tables)
   - 12.15-12.45: ‘Open mic’ time for stakeholders and youth to speak
   - 12.45-1.00: Overview of participants’ main recommendations
   - 1.00-1.05: Closing remarks and thank you

4) Check everyone is happy with the format and respond to any questions.

Note to facilitator: During the following exercise, identify suitable participants to lead the welcome and overview, open mic, recommendations and closing sections of the stakeholders’ meeting. They should ideally represent both sexes, different age groups, and both refugee and national youth.

STEPS: Stakeholder Meeting Planning - Part Two

5 minutes:
1) Explain to the 4 groups that they now have 1.5 hours to prepare their 5 minute presentations which they will share at the stakeholders meeting tomorrow.
2) Explain that at 5.30pm they will share their presentations with the whole group for a peer review and feedback so that they will feel prepared for the next day.
3) They should be creative and memorable and they should focus on the issues and solutions that they have covered in the problem tree and story-board exercises, including the following points:
   - Issue
   - Cause of the issue
   - Impact of the issue on refugee youth
   - Solutions
   - Role of youth
   - Role of stakeholders

85 minutes:
4) With their facilitator for support and timekeeping, the 4 groups should design, prepare and practice their 5 minute presentations.
5) The lead facilitators should rotate around the groups to check that they are on track and understand the task.
6) During this time, the lead facilitators can meet with and prepare the presenters who will do the welcome and recommendations sections.
7) Gather the groups together and explain the principles of peer review – we must be constructive and specific in our feedback, and we need to show respect for each other.
8) Each group will present their presentations to the group, and participants and facilitators can give feedback.

45 minutes: (5.30pm)
- Ensure participants know what is happening that evening, and the starting time for the following day

2) Refer the group to the consultation road map and briefly outline what was covered today
3) Explain what the evening activities will be and what time the next day’s activities will begin.
Preparation before the day begins:

- Review the session plans in detail, including the timings.
- Remember to check that all your resources and equipment are prepared and easily accessible.
- Ensure that you have considered any support needs in the group, including interpretation, restricted mobility and learning difficulties.

Stakeholders Meeting Agenda

Agenda (to be written up on flipchart paper):

10.00-10.30: Coffee and welcome
(and registration of stakeholders)

10.30-10.45: Youth-led introduction:
• Participants to welcome everyone and give an overview of what has been happening during the consultation – this can include a walk around of all the flipcharts
• Explain why they have come together as refugee and host country youth
• Explain what the goals are for this consultation

10.45-11.15: Participant presentations (x 4)

11.15-12.15: World Café style round table discussions (snacks and drinks served at the tables if possible)

12.15-12.45: ‘Open mic’ time for stakeholders and youth to speak

If possible, record concrete commitments from the stakeholders

12.45-1.00: Overview of the group’s main recommendations

1.00-1.05: Closing remarks and thank you
EXERCISE 1: Debrief and Next Steps

 Aim **
For participants and national partner organisations to discuss what will happen next after this consultation, how they can be involved and to make commitments to taking action.

 By the end of the exercise: **
- Participants will have shared their feedback on the stakeholders meeting.
- Participants and partners will have discussed and decided what actions they want to take, who needs to be involved and when will they happen.

 Timing **
2.00 - TBC

 Length **

 To report back on this exercise, you will need **
- To record the key discussion points about next steps.

 Resources you will need for this exercise are **
- Flipchart board
- Flipchart paper & marker pens

 Room set up **
- Circle of chairs set up for all participants and facilitators

 STEPS: Debrief and Next Steps **

 5) Next steps for this group? **

-  a.  Ask the group what ideas they have and what support they might need – record discussion and decisions reached.
-  b.  Partners (i.e. national NGO, INGO, UNHCR) to share next steps and action points - record discussion and decisions reached.

 Notes to facilitators: Examples for youth action might include - maintaining connections within the group, taking actions in their communities, writing blogs, doing advocacy, utilising social media, starting or joining a group or club, writing project proposals, contacting stakeholders **
EXERCISE 2: Closing and Evaluation

Aim
To acknowledge the participants for their contributions, to provide an opportunity for goodbyes, and to collect final feedback.

By the end of the exercise:
- [ ] Participants will have had an opportunity to share their final thoughts and reflections on the consultation.
- [ ] Participants will have received their certificates and a group photo.
- [ ] Participants will have completed and handed in their final, written evaluation forms.

Timing
Length
30 minutes

To report back on this exercise, you will need
- [ ] Completed evaluation forms from all participants.
- [ ] A group photo.

Resources you will need for this exercise are
- [ ] Certificates
- [ ] Evaluation forms

Room set up
- Circle of chairs set up for all participants and facilitators

STEPS: Closing and Evaluation

1) Lead a closing activity that enables everyone to speak and to be acknowledged/appreciated for their contributions during the consultation.

2) Formal presentation of certificates and group photos.

3) Participants to complete written evaluation forms.

- Facilitators should be available to support anyone who needs help to complete these forms. – from a literacy or language perspective.

Please include any ideas on the challenges that refugee youth experience in relation to engaging and working with stakeholders (including summaries of discussions and conclusions reached and direct quotes).

4. Recommendations
Please include ALL ideas that the participants have in response to the following four questions (including summaries of discussions and conclusions reached and direct quotes):

a) What are your recommendations to governments, UN organisations, INGOs, NGOs and CBOs on how the lives of young refugees can be improved?

b) What are your recommendations for other young refugees on how to improve their situation?

c) What could you do differently to improve your situation?

d) If you are in a resettlement country or on the move what are your specific recommendations to youth in countries of first asylum?
ANNEX 2: Overview of Consultation Report Format

Please include the following information in the Overview Report:

1. A brief overview of the consultation including the following information:
   - Dates and Location.
   - Details about National Partners/Facilitators.
   - Overview of Youth participants – profiles/demographics/selection process.
   - Content of consultation.

2. Key Findings:
   - Provide a summary of the five to ten main themes that emerged from the consultation/facilitated discussion with youth participants, including a brief description of the discussions on each of these themes.
   - Describe any unusual/unexpected themes that emerged during the discussions.
   - Give an overview of five to ten main solutions discussed by youth during the consultation and a brief description of the discussions around each of these solutions.
   - Discuss the roles that youth felt they could play in realizing these solutions, and the roles they identified for stakeholders in seeking solutions.

3. Key Recommendations:
   - Provide a summary of the top five to ten recommendations to come out of the consultation/facilitated discussion with a brief description of the discussion around each of these recommendations.
   - Describe any core messages to have emerged from the consultation.

4. Next steps/Future Action:
   - Describe the next steps/future actions for after the consultation/facilitated discussion.
   - Explain the future actions planned for youth and future actions for stakeholders (including government/UN/NGOs).

5. Please highlight any other general observations about the consultation that you think are important and have not been included above.
ANNEX 3: Preparatory Tasks

This task list is a condensed version of the tasks involved in the set-up of the National Consultations to support you to prepare for your consultation.

Personnel

☐ Recruitment of facilitators
☐ Determine interpretation needs and recruit interpreters if required
☐ Allocate staff to key support roles, e.g.
  • Logistics
  • Administration
  • Note taking
  • Photography and videography
  • Social media
  • Coordinating evening activities (if consultation is residential)

☐ Prepare stationery and equipment
☐ Prepare certificates
☐ Prepare evaluation forms

Content preparation

☐ Arrange meeting(s) of facilitation team to review, adapt and prepare session plans and activities
  • Adaptations should take into account, for example - time, language, experience, and any specific needs in the group

Dissemination and Application Processes

☐ Determine dissemination strategy and agree timeline
☐ Disseminate application forms to youth/partner organisations
☐ Identify selection panel
☐ Review applications, select, and notify youth

Logistics & Administration

☐ Identify and confirm venue
☐ Identify and confirm accommodation, if required
☐ Arrange transportation to and from venue
☐ Check catering requirements (e.g. allergies and food intolerances)
☐ Check health conditions
☐ Check re disability and specific access requirements for transportation, venue and accommodation
☐ Establish medical plan for the consultations

☐ Determine any protection actions required, e.g. identifying chaperones for under 18s or considering allocation of rooms if the consultation is residential
☐ Ensure that consultation team members sign your organisational child safeguarding policy
☐ Identify specific protection concerns within the group
☐ Distribute consent and media release forms to parents of participants under 18 and participation agreements and media release forms to youth over 18
  • Include a briefing session on this with parents/youth if required, to ensure informed consent

Protection

☐ Prepare plan of action for engaging youth after the consultation
☐ Prepare final report

Next steps
ANNEX 4: Facilitator and Interpreter Selection Guidelines

Recruiting Facilitators

Minimum Requirements:
- 1 facilitator with experience facilitating workshops and trainings for youth, provided by the Lead National NGO
- 1 external experienced youth facilitator (aged 18-30) - ideally from a national youth organisation
- One male and one female facilitator

Experience:
- Facilitators should have experience of youth and/or community work
- Facilitators should have experience of working directly with vulnerable youth
- Ideally, facilitators should have prior experience of working with refugees, or at least a knowledge of and interest in refugee situations
- Facilitators should have experience of co-facilitation, as they will be working with each other and the GRYC Coordinator to facilitate the Consultation
- Where possible, facilitators should have a good working knowledge of English

Things to consider when selecting your facilitation team:
- In your context, does the facilitation team need to represent both nationals and refugees?
  - Would having just one or the other create an unhealthy power imbalance in the room, or make the participants uncomfortable?

- Do the facilitators have experience of cross-cultural facilitation?
- Do the facilitators have the necessary skills and experience to handle challenging behaviour and situations? For example, this might include:
  - Disagreements in the group
  - Sensitive topics being discussed and heightened emotions
  - Limited literacy levels
  - Working with interpreters

- Do the facilitators have the knowledge and skills to provide initial support for any child or young person who becomes distressed?
- Are the facilitators comfortable with discussions relating to sensitive issues, for example, discrimination, racism, gender based violence, etc.
- Do the facilitators understand and are they comfortable with the methods, approach and purpose of the Consultation?
- Do the facilitators have knowledge of and are they comfortable with the participatory methodologies that will be used during the Consultation?
- Do the facilitators have good knowledge and experience of basic principles of child protection? (for working with under 18s)

3 “The diversity of the consultations will be strengthened if facilitators delivering the sessions have diverse backgrounds as well. Ensure that at least one of your facilitators is a young person, and ensure that you have a good gender balance” – Youth in Action: Youth Consultations for a Post-2015 Framework: A Toolkit. pg. 11.
Selecting Interpreters

Things to consider when selecting your interpreters:

Recruiting a professional interpreter(s) is the preferred option for these Consultations, but we recognise that it is not always possible and it may be necessary to use a member of your organisation as an interpreter. In this case, an appropriate person would be someone who:

- Has experience working as an interpreter
- Is fluent in the language they are interpreting (to and from)
- Understands cultural, regional and dialectic differences
- Has/is able to gain the confidence of the participants in the training
- Is comfortable with discussions relating to sensitive issues, for example, discrimination, racism, gender based violence, etc.
- Is comfortable working with a cross-cultural group
- Is aware of sensitivities related to working with different sexes in the room
- Is prepared to do preparatory work with the facilitators prior to the Consultation (2-3 hour meeting a day before the Consultation to review principles, objectives, and content) and to attend a briefing and debriefing session before and after each day’s work
- Is not also a participant in the consultation; interpreting should be their sole role

Key questions to consider when selecting your interpreters:

- Are there enough interpreters available for the size of the group, the number of languages, and the needs of the facilitation team?
- Does the interpreter(s) have prior experience of working with refugees, or at least a knowledge and interest in their situation?
- Does the interpreter(s) have experience of working with youth?
- If there is more than one interpreter, have you ensured that both sexes have been represented?
- If there is just one interpreter for an individual or small group, have you checked with the participant(s) whether they would be more comfortable with a male or female facilitator?
- Does the interpreter understand and are they comfortable with the methods, approach and purpose of the Consultation?
- Does the interpreter(s) understand the basic principles of child protection? (for working with under 18s)

ANNEX 5: Role of the Note Taker

Why does this role matter? A good set of notes will reflect value for the thoughts and opinions that the young people share during the consultation. The notes will eventually inform the drafting of each national summary report, as well as the final GRYC report.

This is a full time role during a workshop: Designated note taker should have note-taking as their primary function during the consultation. The notes must be made as the activities are happening, and not afterwards.

NB: At the end of the consultation, all consultation information captured during the sessions should be submitted, in ENGLISH, to the GRYC Project Officer: lohman.leila@gmail.com

Key skills

Effective Note Takers:
• Have good active listening skills
• Have good observation skills
• Have good writing skills
• Are able to take comprehensive notes

What qualities do note takers need to possess to record the consultations effectively?
• Act as an observer, not as a participant
• Can remain impartial (i.e., do not give her/his opinions about topics, because this can influence what people say)
• Be detailed when taking notes (i.e., use the same terminology as in the Session Plans and written down during exercises)

Material needed for note taking
• Hard copy of the Session Plans
• Pen/pencil (for writing)
• Coloured pens (for highlighting)
• Paper
• 1 Audio recorder (provided by GRYC team)
• 1 Photo camera (provided by GRYC team)
• 1 video camera (provided by GRYC team)

Guidelines

Four core areas of information capture and translation to keep in mind for the consultation
1. Effectively and efficiently capturing the ongoing content and outcomes of the whole group discussions (as specified in the session plans)
2. Capturing the key discussion points and outcomes from the small group work (as specified in the session plans)
3. Ensuring that all the flipcharts and materials that the youth produce are translated and typed up in English
4. Photographs and video clips (according to media strategy)

Capturing the nuance of the interactions (during discussion/group exercises/feedback)
• Capturing the insights and ideas of the young people includes recording not only what is said, but how it is said.
• Reflect where a debate has taken place, where “heated” conversations or disagreements took place, and generally add the emotional context in which a discussion took place.
• Part of the value of getting young people together for events like this comes in the non-verbal information. Note takers should be aware of, and record, passionate comments, body language, or other non-verbal activity such as nodding heads, eye contact between specific participants, physical excitement, and even tears that can indicate an important level of agreement, support, or interest.

Quotes (by participants, facilitators and Stakeholders)

- Listen for the well-spoken statements that illustrate an important view. Try to record sentences or phrases that are especially enlightening or eloquently express a point of view.
- Use the first name or initials of the speaker before or after the quotation if it helps to keep track (remembering to protect confidentiality when writing reports).
- It can be difficult to capture the entire quote, and if so, aim to get as much as you can, recording especially the key phrases. Use three full stops (…) to indicate missing words.

Other sources of information to take note of / be aware of

- Apart from taking note of what is being said and how it is being said, note takers must also pay attention to the following:
  - Name badges (make sure to know everyone’s names to support the notes)
  - Table numbers (to help organize note taking during group exercises)
  - Brief synopsis of ice breakers and energizers
  - Daily recap (focus on opinions and points of interest)
  - What is being written on the flipcharts and on post it notes
  - Small group facilitators’ notes
  - Evaluation data (focus on opinions and points of interest)

- Discuss in advance where and when to use the audio recorder.
- Make sure to work closely with designated photographer/videographer to make sure all written and visual information is being captured. When necessary direct the photographer/videographer to capture specific pictures (of people, activities, and/or flipcharts).

Share your ideas for follow up questions with the facilitation team

- The note taker should make note of follow-up questions that didn’t get asked, but would help clarify an important thought. Share your ideas for follow up questions with the facilitation team who can ask any additional questions that would make a vague point clearer.
- Make a note of inconsistent, vague, or cryptic comments, and check with the facilitation team as soon as you can, e.g. at break or lunchtime. They may decide to probe further as a result.
- You will have the opportunity to share your impressions and ideas when you attend the debrief session (approx. 45-60 minutes) together with the facilitation team at the end of every day, to capture learning points, and to identify any changes that might need to be made to the next day’s agenda.

Personal interpretation

- As much as possible, the notes should not include personal interpretation – but you may want to note themes, hunches, interpretations, and ideas in a different colour – to discuss further with the facilitation team at the earliest possible convenience.
- The notes must reflect the exact same terminology as found in the Session Plans and shared in writing by participants during the exercises.

Note taking with an interpreter

It is crucial to be proactive, i.e.:

- Remember to always ask probing questions to anyone interpreting or translating to work towards validation.
- Always trust your instincts and analytical skills, and if something doesn’t seem to make sense (e.g. you know more was said than seems to have been translated; something translated seems to contradict something previously said, etc.), probe and/or mark in your own notes that you don’t fully agree that the translation is valid and think about why that might be.
Key points and themes for each exercise/activity

- Key points and themes typically become apparent as a question is discussed or as an activity progresses. Sometimes they’ll be said by one person, and often they will be echoed by others as the discussion progresses.

Exercise 5: Who are we? Facts and Opinions/Perceptions

- Record any key discussion points from the small groups and the whole group feedback
- Photograph the finished sheets at the end of the exercise

Exercise 6: Youth Participation

- Record the voting scores for the Part Two questions.
- Record the answers and key discussion points in Part Two.
- Record key discussion points in Part Three – small group discussions and whole group feedback and discussion.
- Photograph the final mural for Part Three at the end of the exercise.

Exercise 7: Closing and Evaluation

- Record any feedback shared verbally from discussions or 'go round' exercises
- Photograph the completed evaluation tool

Specific information to be captured during the national consultation (as specified in the sessions plans)

DAY 1

Exercise 1: Introductions and Ice Breaker

- Some photos of the ice breaker, if appropriate.
- Brief synopsis of icebreaker exercise

Exercise 2: Objectives, Overview and Expectations

- Record any questions raised during the introduction to the GRYC.
- Photograph the finished expectations sheet at the end of the exercise.

Exercise 3: Informed consent and Ground Rules/Group Contract

- Record any key discussion points around informed consent and to capture any disagreements or refusals to give consent.
- Photograph the finished Ground Rules/Group Contract sheet at the end of the exercise.

Exercise 4: Who am I?

- Record any key comments or points of interest during feedback
- Photograph the finished sheets at the end of the exercise
- Collect the 'Who am I? sheets at the end of the consultation.

DAY 2

Exercise 1: Introduction, recap and energiser

- During recap of the day before (day 1) - focus on opinions or comments, rather than simply listing what happened
- Brief synopsis of energizer

Exercise 2: Identifying Needs and Issues

- Record any key discussion points around needs and issues
- Photograph the completed needs and issues sheets
- List the main issues/challenges that are identified
Exercise 3: Diamond Ranking – Prioritising Issues
- Record any key discussion points around prioritising the main issues, especially the process of selection, which points cause disagreements, and where there was consensus
- Photograph the completed diamond ranking charts
- List the order of the 9 main issues/challenges that are selected

Exercise 4: Problem Tree - Part One
- Record the five issues selected – one per group
- Record key discussion points about causes and impacts of identified issues from each small group discussion
- Photograph the finished problem trees at the end of the exercise

Exercise 5: Problem Tree Part Two
- Record key discussion points about causes and impacts of identified issues from the final presentations to the whole group.
- Video the presentations if possible.

Exercise 6: World Café – Generating Solutions
- Record any key discussion points around the solutions that are proposed
- Photograph the finished solutions sheets at the end of the exercise
- Collect the sheets at the end of the consultation.

Exercise 7: What’s your role?
- Record key discussion points about the role that youth can take in the identified solutions
- Record the specific ideas that youth generate for how they could get involved

Exercise 8: Closing and Evaluation
- Record any feedback shared verbally from discussions or ‘go round’ exercises
- Photograph the completed evaluation tool.

DAY 3
Exercise 1: Introduction, recap and energiser/game
- During recap of the day before (day 2) - focus on opinions or comments, rather than simply listing what happened
- Brief synopsis of energizer

Exercise 2: Solution Tree
- Record key discussion points about addressing causes and the related impacts from each small group discussion
- Record the key discussion points during group feedback
- Photograph the finished solution trees at the end of the exercise

Exercise 3: Circles of Influence
- Record key discussion points from the small groups
- Record the key discussion points from the feedback section, specifically in terms of who they identified and why.
- Photograph the 5 circles of influences sheets at the end of the exercise.

Exercise 4: How to Communicate Our Messages – Advocacy
- Record advocacy exercise using photographs and video
- Record responses and key discussion points during large-group discussion on flipchart paper
- Photograph flipcharts at end of session
- Record the final voting result

Exercise 5: Deciding on our core messages and recommendations
- Record the key discussion points in the small groups
- Record the key ideas and discussion points in the group feedback section
- Record the results of the sticky dots voting and the key messages that are prioritised
Exercise 6: Stakeholder Meeting Planning – Part One
- Record the key discussion points and ideas about the objectives and content of the stakeholders meeting
- Record the agenda structure, and the reasons for the decisions
- Record who volunteers/is allocated for each task

Exercise 7: Stakeholder Meeting Planning – Part Two
- Record key discussion points during their planning time
- Photograph the preparations and rehearsals

DAY 4

Morning:
Stakeholders Dialogue/Meeting (3 hours)
- Ensure a registration sheet is prepared and filled in by all attendees, with name, email address, organization and signature. Plus any other information required by the team.
- Capture key discussions points from the large and small group presentations and discussions, which may include - quotes, agreements or disagreements, commitments made, key questions, conclusions reached, etc.
- Photograph as many parts of the meeting as possible (keeping in mind anyone who might not have signed a media release form)
- Video and audio record key parts of the meeting – e.g. presentations and speeches

Afternoon:
Exercise 1: Group Action Planning
- Record the key discussion points about next steps
- Photograph all the flipchart sheets produced at the end of the exercise

Exercise 2: Closing and Evaluation
- Completed evaluation forms from all participants
- A group photo
What is this consultation about?
This consultation was designed to give young refugees a voice through dialogue with each other, other youth and concerned stakeholders nationally and internationally on issues that affect them.

These consultations will provide an opportunity for young refugees to be heard, to listen and discuss, build new connections, and make recommendations on how they can be more involved in solving the challenges that they and their communities face.

How will this consultation be organised?
It will take place over three and half days and will have two parts:

1. A three-day consultation with 20 refugee youth and 5 national youth working together to develop an understanding of individual youth and community assets, and the challenges that youth face, and work towards identifying solutions to those challenges.

2. A half day meeting with representatives from key organisations in their location enabling the group to share and discuss findings and recommendations, and discuss how these can be acted upon.

This consultation will require active participation in group discussions and activities with other young people and the facilitation team. The consultation will be led by a team of 3 facilitators. There will also be note-takers present to record the thoughts and ideas of the participants.

How will the information that is collected be used?
The information collected will be used for the purposes below:

• Contributing to a report on the consultation, including the recommendations of the participants
• The development of guidelines and policy recommendations for organisations that work with youth
• Advocacy on the issues that are important to young refugees
• Immediate action by youth participants and other stakeholders where appropriate and agreed upon

What is the selection criteria for youth participants?
Age: Participants will be between 15-24 years of age.

Commitment: Participants must demonstrate commitment to taking part in group activities, discussing issues and sharing ideas openly, and listening to other young people respectfully as they express their thoughts.

What is a consultation?
• A workshop/meeting/gathering set up to bring people together to talk about their needs, views and opinions on particular issues
• An opportunity for people to influence decision making that affects them, and to be heard at a local, national and international level

ANNEX 6: Sample Participant Application Form
Experience: Participants should have previous experience of participating in group activities and workshops, and/or a willingness to get involved.

Parental/guardian consent: If selected, any participants under the age of 18 must have informed consent from their parent or recognised guardian.

Selection Process:
- If the applicant meets the criteria listed above, selection for participation will be based on the applicant’s experience and motivation.
- The organisers will work to ensure a balance in terms of age, gender and diversity, including geographical location and life experience. We are committed to ensuring equal access for all applicable young people.
- The participants will be selected by a panel of representatives from <INSERT NAME OF ORGANISATION/S>.

Logistics and selection information

Selection: Once the applications have been reviewed, staff from <INSERT NAME OF ORGANISATION/S> will be in touch to confirm if you have been selected to participate in the workshop. You will hear by <INSERT DATE>.

Travel, accommodation and food: Will be provided by the organisers for all selected youth participants. All participants will be supported in arranging their travel by staff from <INSERT NAME OF ORGANISATION/S>. Participants are expected to arrive on <INSERT DATE AND TIME> and to depart on <INSERT DATE AND TIME>.

ANNEX 7: Sample Parent/Guardian Consent Form
(To be completed by parents or guardians of participants who are under 18 years old)

What is a consultation?
- A workshop/meeting/gathering set up to bring people together to talk about their needs, views and opinions on particular issues
- An opportunity for people to influence decision making that affects them, and to be heard at a local, national and international level

What is this consultation about?
This consultation was designed to give young refugees a voice through dialogue with each other, other youth and concerned stakeholders nationally and internationally on issues that affect them.

These consultations will provide an opportunity for young refugees to be heard, to listen and discuss, build new connections, and make recommendations on how they can be more involved in solving the challenges that they and their communities face.

How will this consultation be organised?
It will take place over three and half days and will have two parts:

1. A three-day consultation with 20 refugee youth and 5 national youth working together to develop an understanding of individual youth and community assets, and the challenges that youth face, and work towards identifying solutions to those challenges.

2. A half day meeting with representatives from key organisations in their location enabling the group to share and discuss findings and recommendations, and discuss how these can be acted upon.

This consultation will require active participation in group discussions and activities with other young people and the facilitation team. The consultation will be led by a team of 3 facilitators. There will also be note-takers present to record the thoughts and ideas of the participants.

How will the information that is collected be used?
The information collected will be used for the purposes below:
- Contributing to a report on all the consultations, including the recommendations of the participants
- The development of guidelines and policy recommendations for organisations that work with youth
- Advocacy on the issues that are important to young refugees
- Immediate action by youth participants and other stakeholders where appropriate and agreed upon
What is the selection criteria for youth participants?

Age: Participants will be between 15-24 years of age.

Commitment: Participants must demonstrate commitment to taking part in group activities, discussing issues and sharing ideas openly, and listening to other young people respectfully as they express their thoughts.

Experience: Participants should have previous experience of participating in group activities and workshops, and/or a willingness to get involved.

Parental/guardian consent: If selected, any participants under the age of 18 must have informed consent from their parent or recognised guardian.

Selection Process:
- If the applicant meets the criteria listed above, selection for participation will be based on the applicant’s experience and motivation.
- The organisers will work to ensure a balance in terms of age, gender and diversity, including geographical location and life experience. We are committed to ensuring equal access for all applicable young people.
- The participants will be selected by a panel of representatives from <INSERT NAME OF ORGANISATION/S>

Exercise 4: Advocacy

https://plan-international.org/advocacy-toolkit

Advocacy is about:

- Speaking truth to power
- Giving people a voice about the issues that affect them.
- Building evidence of what needs to change and how that change can happen.
- Positive change is necessary towards greater social justice and equality.
- Influencing people with power and changing how they think and act.

WHAT IS ADVOCACY?

A CALL FOR CHANGE

VOICE OF THOSE WHO WANT CHANGE

= EVIDENCE = ADVOCACY

Speaking truth to power
What did participants in the Global Refugee Youth Consultations have to say?

“If every one of us youth takes actions with our own hands, then all the society will change.”

“How can we work with youth if we do not see them? How can we plan for youth if we do not know their needs? How much should we invest, if we’re not sure how many they are? How can we host youth in our countries without providing specific humanitarian assistance focused on youth? How can we write effective public policy for youth without consulting with the youth it is intended to benefit? How can we work and progress together if we are invisible?”

“After participating in consultation, I’ve got the skills for mobilizing people in my refugee settlement to participate in our next project of resolving the conflicts in our community.”

“I am now the voice of the voiceless. I will be advocating for those who can’t...”
